FEED.

In a free-for-two fight at Oakwoods Monday night James Payne cut Jesse Hunter's throat. The cut was four inches long and came near getting his jugular. Hunter was taken to his home near Blue-duck Springs. It is thought he will recover.

A switch was left open near the round-house last night and the incoming passenger train on the K. C. bounded on to the track connecting that road with the C. and O. Fortunately no cars were standing on the track or a serious accident might have resulted.

ROBERT LANE, living in the West end of the city, has recently returned home—well and cured, he hopes—from the Cincinnati Hospital, where he had gone for relief from long suffering from an attack of "tic douloureux," a neuralgic affection of the facial nerves. He was relieved by a serious surgical operation performed by Dr. Conner.

Late, But Cleverly Courtious.

Winchester Democrat.—THE PUBLIC LEDGER, Maysville's new Republican daily, has found its way to our table. It is edited by Col. Tom Davis, one of the best newspaper men in the state, and will likely succeed in stirring up the boys in that neck of the woods. As a newspaper THE LEDGER is all right; as a political paper it is all wrong.

Mayor's Court.

Mayor Pearce disposed of the following cases yesterday:

Reuben Evans, colored, drunk and disorderly, $4 45.
George Armstrong drunk $3 45. Armstrong was ordered to the House-house to work out his fine, but when he got right of the jail he squealed, and sitting down on the sidewalk pulled off his shoe and produced therefrom the money to pay his fine.

Complicated Divorce Case.

At Owenton a few weeks ago Mrs. A. M. Baker secured a divorce from her husband, on the ground of inhuman treatment. She then left the city and went to her people in Michigan, but soon she published a card in The Queen News stating that her husband had never mistreated her and that she had sworn falsely. A short time after the divorced wife returned and now her ex-husband has sent her to the Female Seminary at Georgetown, where he says he will keep her until she finishes her education. She is only eighteen years of age, and the turn affairs has taken is not understood.

In Memoriam.

The death of James T. Gault was no surprise to those who were aware of his condition. For years he had suffered from heart trouble and lately it had assumed a much more serious form. Had he lived until the third of next July he would have been forty years of age. Repeatedly warned of his condition, he knew he could live but a short time, but was ready to meet his fate without a murmur, without a fear. The last few months had been a great strain upon him, and probably hastened his death. For two weeks he never left the bedside of a dying father; for four months he had been a tender nurse for an invalid sister. Those who knew him best recognized his worth; he had many friends, no enemies; liberal to a fault, what was his, was his friend's; the hand of charity was never stretched to him in vain, and many has he assisted in the hour of need. A better heart never beat within the bosom of man. Let us forget his faults; remember his virtues. He had faith in a future, recognized its responsibilities and feared not to meet them. Doubt not that on the Day of Judgment that o'er his grave the angel of mercy will drop a tear of redemption.

MAJOR C. H. BLACKBURN of Cincinnati will speak at Ripley on Memorial Day.

At the annual meeting of the trustees of the Soldiers' Home of Kentucky the following officers were elected for the ensuing year:

President—General E. H. Hobson.
Secretary—W. P. Hampton.
Treasurer—John Hemeler.
Superintendent—General Speed S. Fry.

LILLIE CRANE, a young girl who lives in Bath county, applied to Mayor Pearce yesterday for transportation to her home. She claims to have been ruined by a married man of Wyoming, and will shortly become a mother. She was furnished with means and started for home this morning. She is but fifteen years old and is well connected in Bath county.

FRANK D. STAYTON, a very popular traveling man of Falmouth, and his wife separated about five years ago over some trivial matter. Last week Mr. Stayton succeeded in getting a divorce. His wife, then living with her sister in New York, learned of the serious turn matters had taken, started to Falmouth, arriving Monday afternoon. By chance Mr. Stayton came also. They met, the old love still existed and a reconciliation and marriage followed.

Refused to Honor It.

At the late session of the Bath county Grand Jury W. T. Johnson, a prominent citizen and Grand Army man of Springfield, Ill., was indicted for writing and sending letters to M. J. Carpenter of Bath county, accusing him of a felony, and threatening to convict and send him to the penitentiary unless he paid to Johnson $300.

Under the laws of Kentucky the penalty for sending such letters is confinement in the penitentiary from one to five years. Upon notification Governor Brown issued a requisition upon the Governor of Illinois for Johnson, to be brought before the court of Bath county to answer to the indictment.

Last week C. C. Hazelrigg, being appointed by Governor Brown state agent for that purpose, went to Springfield, Ill., and presented the requisition, but the Governor of Illinois refused to honor it, giving as the reason for his refusal that Johnson had written the letters in Douglas county, Ill., and sent by mail to Carpenter, who received them in Bath county, Ky., and such acts were no violation of the Statutes of Kentucky.

A CHILD of Barton Pargett of Long Lick, Scott county, met with a serious and possibly fatal accident. The little one was left alone in a room and, approaching too near the grate, its clothes caught fire. The mother entered the room just in time to save the child from a horrible death. Its burns are serious, but the child may possibly recover.

The venerable Thomas Helm Abbott, a pioneer of Campbell county and one of Newport's most highly esteemed and respected citizens, is dead. He was born December 19th, 1808, at Washington, Mason county. His father was Dr. Peter Abbott of Boston, Mass., and his mother Miss Elizabeth Helm, daughter of Major Meredith Helm, a pioneer of Kentucky.

A CALL bearing the signatures of forty-five leading Democrats of Magoffin county has been made upon James H. Hazelrigg of Mt. Sterling to become a candidate for the Appellate Judgeship, now held by Chief Justice W. H. Holt. The call assures him of the hearty support of the mountain contingency, and is supplemented by calls from other sections. Judge Hazelrigg has not yet replied, but says he will announce his conclusion in due time.
